Programs Abroad

The following two programs are quite popular among our students.

Experiment in International Living

Others:

Youth for Understanding

Global Works

www.globalworkstravel.com

China Immersion Summer Camp

There are many more programs listed on the web. Some programs offer scholarships, some are run by a non-profit organization, some take place in Universities and others involve living with a family or working on a community project, there is just too much to list. When choosing a program, parents and students should avoid choosing a tour, because there will be no opportunity for language acquisition. None of the programs are school sponsored.
